IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE WE ARE NOW STOCKING
R-22 AND R-410A REFRIGERANT

R-22 (Chlorodifluoromethane) is used for medium to high temperature refrigeration applications and virtually all residential and commercial air conditioning installed in the last 20 years.

R-22 is a single component refrigerant with zero-glide, is compatible with all mineral based oils, and has a relatively low ozone depleting potential. R-22 functions well in various high temperature refrigeration, air-conditioning, and heat pump applications.

STOCK #	DESCRIPTION
709200	R-22 – 13.6 kg

R-410A (Difluoromethane Pentafluoroethane) is widely accepted to replace R-22 in air conditioning and refrigeration applications.

R-410A is selected by equipment manufacturers as the refrigerant of choice for providing non-ozone-depleting air conditioning and heat pump options to homeowners.
